

PRICING & TERMS

1. What's the wholesale price per SKU?

8 oz MandelBites bag wholesale: $____. Two-Pack of Chocolate Chip: $____. Single-serve Mandel Bread: $____. Volume tiers at ____ cases. [Jake to confirm exact pricing on the day.]

2. What's the suggested retail price?

8 oz MandelBites bag retails at $12. Two-Pack of Chocolate Chip retails at $4.50. We trust each operator to set what works for their channel.

3. What margin can we expect?

At standard wholesale, approximately ____% gross margin on the 8 oz bag and ____% on the Two-Pack. Happy to share margin math for your specific channel.

4. What are your payment terms?

Net 30 from invoice date. We invoice on shipment. ACH, check, or credit card accepted. No factoring fees, no slotting fees.

5. Do you offer volume discounts?

Yes. Tiered pricing kicks in at ____ cases per order. Multi-location accounts get an additional ____% off. [Jake to confirm exact tiers.]

LOGISTICS & OPERATIONS

6. What's the case pack?

8 oz MandelBites: ____ units per case. Two-Pack: ____ units per case. Single-serve Mandel Bread: ____ units per case. [Jake to confirm.]

7. What's your MOQ?

____ for first orders so you can test placement before scaling. Reorders at ____ minimum. We're flexible while you size into the velocity.

8. What's the lead time on orders?

1 to 2 weeks for standard reorders. First orders may take 2 to 3 weeks while we onboard your account.

9. Do you deliver direct or through a distributor?

Direct to account. No distributor in the middle, which means lower cost to you, faster turnaround, and direct contact with us on quality questions.

10. How do reorders work?

Email or phone, whatever's easiest. We proactively reach out when you're approaching your usual reorder window. Average cadence across our partners is six weeks. Monthly restocks possible if your velocity moves faster.

THE PRODUCT

11. What is Mandel Bread?

We describe it as softer biscotti. Twice-baked like biscotti, but tender on the inside. Easier eating, same shelf-stable structure. Based on our Great-Grandma Jeanne's recipe, four generations strong.

12. What's the shelf life and why does it travel so well?

Twelve weeks. No preservatives. Four times the shelf life of a soft cookie. The twice-baked structure means no melt risk in a hot bag or cold cabin; the resealable 8 oz pouch is TSA-friendly and survives a roller bag.

13. What are the ingredients?

Real ingredients: flour, eggs, butter, sugar, chocolate chips (or other inclusions per variety), and a few baking essentials. No artificial preservatives. Full ingredient deck available on request.

14. What allergens are present?

Wheat, eggs, dairy across the line. Almond MandelBites contains tree nuts. Funfetti contains sprinkles. Made in a facility that processes ____ [Jake to confirm facility allergens].

15. What flavors / SKUs do you offer? Is there a gluten-free option?

Five core SKUs: Chocolate Chip MandelBites (8 oz hero), Almond, Funfetti, Gluten-Free Chocolate Chip (8 oz), and a Two-Pack of Chocolate Chip for checkout/impulse. Three single-serve Mandel Bread varieties available on request. Yes, GF option is the Gluten-Free Chocolate Chip MandelBites.

PRODUCTION & TRACK RECORD

16. Where is it baked?

Right here in Denver, Colorado. Family-owned facility. [Jake to confirm: SQF status, square footage, etc.]

17. What's your production capacity?

We currently ship ____ cases per month with headroom to scale 3 to 4x without facility changes. We can grow with your account.

18. Who are your current customers?

12 wholesale customers across 5 channels: airport concessions, hotels, specialty grocery, coffee, and gifting. Anchor airport partner is SkyMarket at DIA (operated by JAF Concessions). Hotel partners include Embassy Suites Boulder and The Art Hotel Denver.

19. What's working at DIA?

We started small: one SKU on one shelf at SkyMarket. Within nine months that grew to four SKUs across the same concept, on a seven-week reorder cadence. Our hero SKU appears on 76% of invoices we ship. The bags earn their space.

20. Have you had any recalls or quality incidents?

None. We bake to small-batch standards and ship within the freshness window. [Jake to confirm.]

INSURANCE, SUPPORT, & STORY

21. Do you have a COI / product liability insurance?

Yes. General liability and products liability are in place, additional insured endorsements per account on request. Sample COI on hand. [Jake to fill in exact coverage amounts.]

22. What in-store marketing support do you provide?

Free in-store plaques (2.5", 3.5", and 4" sizes). Story leave-behind for staff training. Sample boxes for in-store tastings. We also feature your store on our Find Us map at lazarfamilybakehouse.com.

23. What's the brand story I can tell my team?

Mother-and-son team (Jake and Victoria) baking Mandel Bread in Denver from Great-Grandma Jeanne's recipe. Four generations of the family. 5% of profits go to food charities. The story behind every bite.

24. How do I get started?

Two options: (1) request a free sample box today, no commitment, ships to your office; or (2) place a first order on Net 30 terms with our flexible MOQ. Either way, we make the next step easy.

25. Who do I contact?

Jake Lazar — info@lazarfamilybakehouse.com — (303) 990-0779. I respond same day during business hours.
